Big Red Summary | SuperSummary

Big Red, by Jim Kjelgaard. March 27, 2019 by James D. Witmer 2 Comments. Let's get this out of the way first: Big Red is a boy-meets-dog story in which the dog doesn't die in the end. That won't come as much of a surprise once you begin reading, because Big Red, like his seventeen-year-old trainer Danny, is a survivor.

Jim Kjelgaard - Faded Page

I loved the Jim Kjelgaard books when I was around 13 years old, circa 1969/70. For the record, I have never been a hunter, owned a gun or been a fan of conservative politics - except on rare occasions - so the conclusion that to like this book you have to be a NRA member or frequent outdoor "sports" stores is pretty much a joke to me.
