Amir al-Mu'minin is an Arabic title that is usually translated "Commander of the Faithful" or "Leader of the Faithful". The use of the title does not necessarily signify a claim to caliphate as it is usually taken to be, but described a certain form of activist leadership which may have been attached to a caliph but also could signify a level of authority beneath that. The Ottoman sultans, in particular, made scant use of it. Moreover, the term was used by men who made no claim to be caliphs.
